

Mazurenko Iryna

International Economic Relations, 102

Language advisor: T. S. Skyrda

THE REASON OF LEARNING FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Nowadays the technological achievement has changed our life towards another approach. Innovations in all areas made our opportunities more affordable in comparison with last years. Education as well has been involved in that progress. Now young generation tries to implement these new opportunities to improve their skills for future job. Today it is popular to have exchange students' projects in any parts of different countries. This is a good chance to observe on your own how students in different spots find something useful for themselves. These skills will help to adapt yourself in various situations independently where you are. For example, Youth Without Borders Association (YWBA) a non-governmental, non-profitable voluntary association, has its headquarters in Nablus and its activities cover the northern governorates (the West Bank) [1]. It was initiated by a group of well-educated Palestinian youths who are aware of the important role of the youth in the community. Therefore, YWBA is considered an extraordinary association in Palestine as it brings together youths from three heavenly religions: The Samaritan, Christianity, and Islam. Also, YWBA participated in most of conferences and seminars related to the youth national and international topics; YWBA annually provide the youth sector with scholarship opportunities for talented and marginal groups with special needs and limited financial resources. It is good feasibility for those who want to try themselves in scale projects and have a real practice. In such events we could meet somebody or it could happen something that we should do for changes or, maybe, try to do it better than one can do. With the knowledge of foreign language we have more views than in usual life. Language is one of the basic part of human life. Without it we cannot understand each other. We could have misunderstandings which might bad evolve in big problems. So, if we want to overcome these inconveniences, we should learn it for ourselves. It would stimulate us to communicative with people around the world. The information coming from different sources gives interesting answers to the questions. We will not have only our opinion. Except this, we have one more reason it is a job. All entrepreneurs want to see a workplace with skilled available labor and vocation education. It is really hard to fit their requirements. But, young generation does not stay in one place. With the help of modern means of communication young people try to study and work at the same time. For example, there are a lot of websites and programs where we can find information about employers and their requirements. One of this is “Budding talents recruitment” [2]. It helps trainees, graduates or permanent skilled migrants enter the Australian corporate workforce by preparing them for the job market and marketing them to the potential employers based on their core competencies, not concerning just their previous work experiences. Such programs help students to try their capabilities at real work and can also be a great addition to their curriculum vitae. If you want work by specialty, you can do it! What about selected education of specialty? You can graduate from university at home. This is possible! Technological achievement, in meaning like Internet, made for us on easy and available way.

You can speak with teachers online with the help of special programs. Also, you should do a lot of homework and special tests which show our level of mastering information. For example, in China the National Network of Radio and Television Universities (CRTVU) was founded in 1979. It provides growing demands for urgently needed skilled labor and for adult education that the traditional educational system does not satisfy. CRTVU offers courses for obtaining a degree and for continuing education. About 229 basic courses and 18 special courses are offered for the continuing education level. Dictation education stimulates young generation to study and mature in new kinds of science. It is an actual way to be in trends with time and do not degrade. In conclusion, I want to say that there are a lot of opportunities opening doors for young generation and embody it in real life to study foreign languages.

REFERENCES:

1. <https://www.annalindhfoundation.org/members/youth-without-borders-association-ywba>
2. <https://www.studyandwork.com.au/>